Achmea Pension Services chooses AllVida from IG&H

Zeist, 26 April 2023 – Achmea Pension Services has chosen the AllVida administration platform from IG&H. This was preceded in recent months by a comprehensive and careful selection process. This selection lays solid foundations for the transition to the new pension system.

Daphne de Kluis, Executive Board member responsible for the Pension business, speaks of an important decision for customers and for Achmea: “We are happy with these foundations. The interests of our customers and members are paramount and have guided our choice. Achmea is fully committed to properly supporting customers in the move to the new system. Together with the pension funds, we will now take the next steps to make this process a success.”

Arthur van der Wal, Chair of Achmea’s Pensions division, is delighted that the decision has been made. “This decision provides clarity to our fund customers and employees for 1 January 2027. We are convinced that with AllVida we can offer the funds the most achievable transition to the new pension system. Furthermore, in addition to developing the platform, IG&H can offer broader support for this transition. We have great confidence in path we have chosen and will now continue to shape this challenging journey.”
